

Valentine Dance

THIS Senior Class has the honor to be the first class to bring about a social event of just this type. The class is proud of this distinction for the Valentine Dance may well be considered as having been a grand affair.

The hall was artistically decorated in red and white. Cupids and hearts and other ornaments suitable to the occasion were placed here and there. Even the costumes of the guests seemed to have been planned ahead to fit the occasion. The Broadway Serenaders orchestra entertained the 100 guests present. Everyone seemed to enjoy the evening to the fullest extent.

The climax of the evening was the culmination of a popularity contest which had been on foot for three weeks. The Senior Class being made up of four boys and only one girl, each boy chose a girl to act in his place. The results were beyond expectation, for the girls sold many more votes than the committee anticipated. Each girl received a handsome party bag from the committee. Miss Sadie D. Washington was pronounced the most popular girl, having sold 826 votes. She received a novelty fountain pen as the grand prize. Miss Hazel Stephens gave her a close second, selling 635 votes. Miss Kathleen Francis held third place, selling 525 votes. Other participants were Miss Gussie Rawlings and Miss Nellie Franklin.

All in all, the evening was one of real enjoyment. We shall not soon forget February 12, 1926.
